Rwanda is a country known for its resilient people and lush landscapes. Arabica coffee trees thrive in the hills at higher elevations. The Farmer Support center located in the capital city, Kigali, not only supports farmers in Rwanda, but also Burundi, Congo, Kenya, Zambia, and Uganda. Our Starbucks agronomists work with coffee producers to improve productivity of their farms and increase the quantity of their harvests, as well as choosing varieties that will be resistant to disease. Coffee has, and will, continue to be integral to the Rwandan economy and society.
